2016/2017 Semester 1

COMP60721 IT Governance

Daniel Dresner

Comments There certainly seemed to be a better overall feel to the quality of the work done this year with students heeding the advice on how to address the questions and - more importantly - to ignore a five year-old model answer set from an old exam which is no longer helpful for the contemporary test!
Some students - probably those taking both this and the Cyber Security module - confused business impact tables with risk treatment plans and could therefore score very little in those question parts. The question about metrics and dashboards was disappointing given the quality of the group work presented on this in the governance portfolio coursework.

Overall, the presentation style - discussed on several occasions in class - was greatly improved making it easier to find marks in the question about architecture.
